

Investing in the Transformation to an Equitable and Ecologically Sound Regional Food System

BETH GOSCH

Beth Gosch is the Executive Director of Western New York Foundation with offices in Buffalo, NY. The Foundation is a regionally focused organization centered around empowering innovative people with the resources needed to create and implement sustainable solutions that will build a thriving and equitable Western New York food system that reflects the community it serves. Beth leads with an undying commitment to elevating, advocating and fortifying exemplary nonprofit leaders and organizations meeting the pressing community needs of the region.